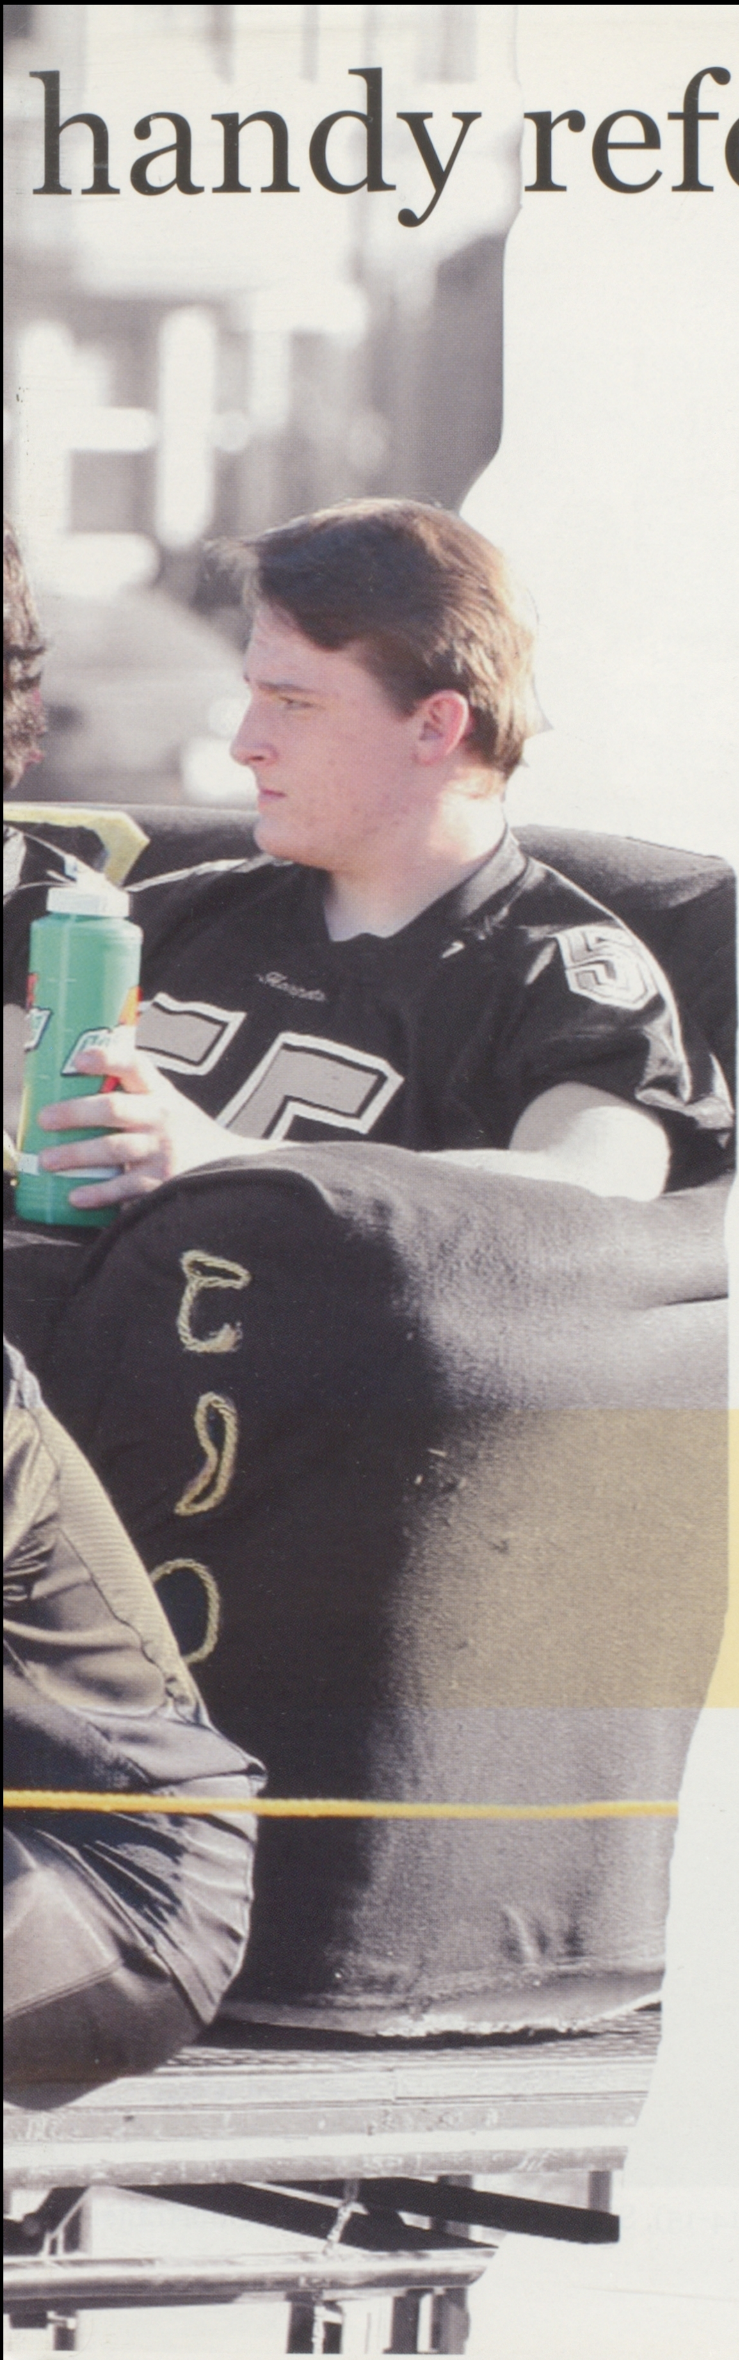
handy reference[1] guide



Alameda High School is filled with diversity, outstanding intellectual and athletic abilities, and artistic talent. As the yearbook staff, it is our responsibility to fully record our high school years and the culture that defines AHS students in an organized fashion. You will find that the yearbook sections have been renamed to parts of speech that DEFINE the section appropriately.

Check the table of contents on the endsheets for the sequence of the sections in this book. To find the number of each individual page, go to the bottom of the section divider that the page would be found in.

Each section is color coded with a bar that spans across the entire page, making it easier for you to go directly to the section that you are looking for. At the right end of the bar is where you will find a buddy holding a page number, welcoming you to the page. Along the outside is the page name and the yearbook staff person(s) who created the page.

Juniors Wes Moyer and Alex Ve'e and Seniors James Parker, Abdullah Gawhary and Matthew Mansfield take advantage of the couch that DECA bought and designed by lounging before the homecoming game.

SENIOR: /sēn’ y∂r/

1. Being in a position, rank, or grade above others of the same set or class. 2. Having precedence in making certain decisions. 3. Of or relating to the fourth and last year of high school or college. 4. The best class at AHS.

RESPECT ROYALTY. The Senior class resounds in glory and pride at their last Homecoming Assembly. Brian Peterson shares his excitement with Kenny Arnerich, as Aaron Boykin points to where the best class is. The booming cheers proves that we have become one significant voice.

Moments that bring us together like this make up for other long and laborious days as high school students. This photo defines our senior class royalty, we have waited three years to be on top - 2007 is our year. We are the most energetic, spirited, mature and the most respected students at Alameda High School. Despite our differences we have bonded the most in this past year. Senior year brought out the best in us because we tried a little harder to be friendly to one another, in hopes that we will all remember each other in the happiest of memories. We have something important to say. We are prepared, we are ambitious, and we are looking forward. All that we have learned in high school is the foundation for our future endeavors. Thus, the part of speech, adjectives, defines our senior class of 2007 because our superiority and the footprints we have left describe us the best.

Seniors, this is only the beginning to a tremendous journey ahead.

Stepping out into the moonlight

Coming out to sea the view

What brought you to this event? What were you the most excited for? What was the most memorable part of the night?

Thought I heard a lot of people say they regret going, I didn't want to regret not going. It was a lot of fun! We had the coolest boat ever! The deck was the perfect place to cool off.

-Samantha Hsu

I went to Banquet because I thought it would be fun! My favorite part was hanging out with my friends and watching the slideshow.

GALAXY COMMODORE

Seniors coming together to reminisce and to dine.

Being one of the very last times we all are able to come together, the Senior class sails off into the night for the long-awaited Senior Banquet. Waiting four long years, we have earned this memorable night. Even though Banquet lasted only a few hours, the dining, dancing, and laughing created precious memories that will last a lifetime. As we move forward in our lives, memories like these will always stay with us. Banquet allowed us to commemorate our hard work and friendships; we made note of this night as the night of bests, joy, and of the view. This is only the beginning of the end.

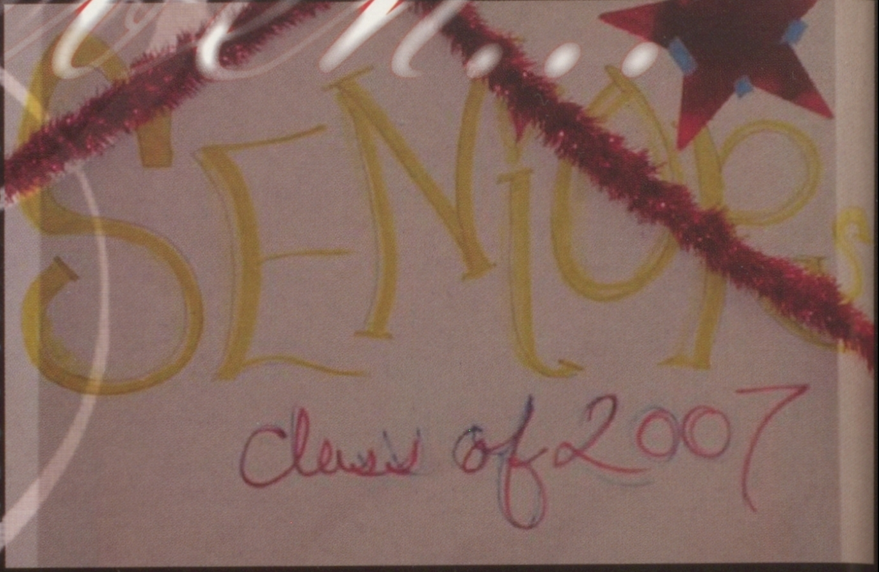
-Annalise Manno

Oh Seven...



Seniors: It has been a long four years of high school. As our journey at AHS comes to an end, define yourselves for a new beginning. Although we may leave the school buiding itself, we leave a legacy behind, portraying who we are as a class. Creating friendships and growing together during the past 12 or more years, we made friendships that will last a life time. To the Class of Two Thousand and Seven, CONGRATULATIONS! The time we waited for has finally come. This is not the end, but the beginning. Good luck Seniors!!!

Behind the thousands of smiling faces in the people section, unique personalities and passions make each person memorable. Some of us have gone through high school excitedly and enthusiastically; others stoically, some sleepily. . . We have each put our personal imprimatur on the way we have traveled through AHS. Thus, the part of speech, adverbs, perfectly describe the people section of the yearbook. Choose an adverb and let it define your journey.

Administration & Counseling

Get to know Mr. Janvie our principal: /prĭn-s pəl/: n. the head director o school

Concluding his third year at Alameda High, Mr. Janvier's job is n only to evaluate programs an oversee the school, but to "encourage, motivate, and help student meet their goals." His own goal fo the 2006-2007 school year is t provide a well-rounded environment that manages the academi and social needs of all students His day consists of holding an attending meetings, observin classes, and supervising and supporting school functions. Mr. Janvier thinks that in order to have a successful school year, it is necessary to have a staff that works well together and communicates wit each other. He strongly believe that the administration at Alamed High fufills these requirements "We have a great staff, along wit great students. I'm here because want to be here," he says.

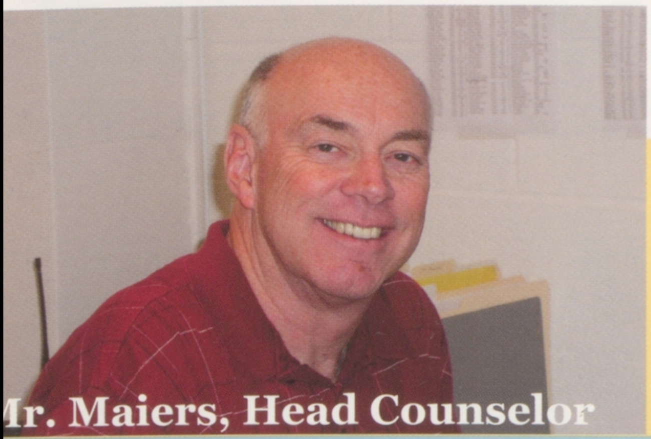
Golden Oak Award
The University of La Verne

Meet Ms. Wiggins & Mr Rawlins, our two Vic Principals: /vīs prĭn-s pəl/: n. assistant principals a school

Vice Principal Mr. Rawlins defined AHS as "an excellent school tha is improving each and every year a community of learners where everyone else feels supporte and respected." This is Mr. Rawlins' tenth year working at Alameda High and he enjoys workin with the students, teachers, sta and parents. As Vice Principal Mr. Rawlins & Ms. Wiggins wor together to make sure the scho is open and ready for 2100 peopl No two days are ever alike, for "t remainder of each day involv juggling and balancing a plethor of duties and responsibilities Rawlins shares.

So, who ARE our counselors?

/kouń-sə-lər/: n. a faculty member who advises students on personal and academic problems, career choices, and the like.



Mr. Maiers, Head Counselor

"Any student can be successful by coming to school on time with their homework completed. You have to be ready to learn."

When Mr. Maiers was in high school, he admits his counselor was "lousy." From then on, he vowed he could do a better job, and has done so throughout his twenty-two years at Alameda High. As head counselor, Mr. Maiers' job is to oversee the other counselors, meet with students and parents, and take phone calls. "Every day, you get to help somebody, whether it's scheduling their classes, or helping them graduate," he says.

Admin. & Counselors: M. Lim & M. Sum

Ms. Hoffmeister, Freshman Counselor

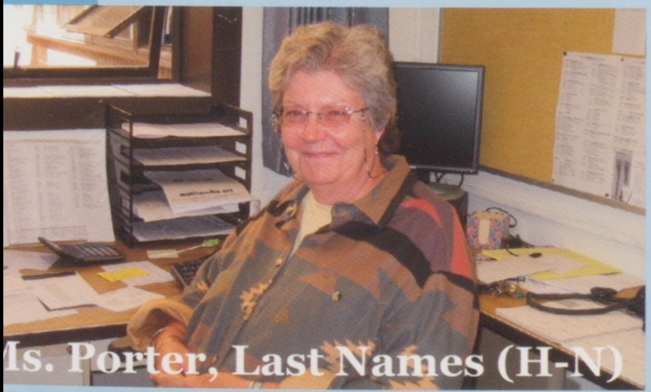
"Organization is the key to success."

As the Freshman counselor, Ms. Hoffmeister visits the 9th grade classrooms and introduces new Freshmen to the school. In the classroom, she overviews the graduation and college requirements, while directing students to available counseling. During her four years at Alameda High, Ms. Hoffmeister has established student study groups, where she organizes study teams. During lunchtime, she provides a new class that helps students relax and reduce stress.

Ms. Loy, Last Names (A-G)

"School counseling kind of chose me."

Ms. Loy has been a counselor at Alameda High for seven years. She enjoys aiding students who come to her and says her role in school is to "help students figure out what to do after they leave these orange walls." Ms. Loy decided to become a counselor after realizing that the classroom teacher profession did not suit her. Many students find Ms. Loy's cheerful personality welcoming and often come to her with their problems.



Ms. Porter, Last Names (H-N)

"I've been here too many years to count!"

Ms. Porter has a lot of experience from all her years at Alameda High. As a former P.E. teacher, Ms. Porter was known as more of a counselor than a gym instructor. "I would just sit around and talk with students. They would always come to me with their problems," she recalls. Soon after, she began working towards her counseling credentials and found her way to Alameda High. "The best thing about this job is working with the students. I help them navigate through their teenage years of high school. It's a very rewarding experience."

Mr. Wong, Last Names (O-Z)

"Follow your passion. It may not lead you exactly where you initially planned to be, but following your heart will bring you closer to your goal."

To many students, Mr. Wong serves not just a counselor, but a mentor as well. During college, Mr. Wong began volunteering at schools, and realized he cared more about helping students than what he was currently studying. Mr. Wong joined the Alameda High counseling staff two years ago. He reveals that the most rewarding part of his job is having a contribution to a student's graduation.

Faculty & Staff... /făk'∂l-tē/ and /stăf/

Our Faculty are given a huge responsiblity on campus; because of them we are all able to enjoy and relate to things in the world. Not only do they teach us academic matters, but they teach us responsibility. Learning how to get to class on time will not only teach us to show up to work on time, but also how to turn in a resume on time or just even manage all the other tasks in life. We are fortunate to have the kind of teachers that we do, who care about our well-being and certainly not for the money! They show us that they want to be here teaching us.

(In American universities, colleges, and schools) noting or pertaining to the class or year next below that of the senior.

It's been a long journey, but here we are standing tall and proud as upperclassmen. No longer are we lost wandering around the hallways in slight confusion, we know our turf. Becoming an upperclassmen also comes with more responsibility; this year was considered by many to be the most important and stressful year. Many of us have been studying endless hours for SAT's hoping to get into our dream college. Although strenuous, we are closer to the ultimate goal of graduating. As the biggest class in AHS, '08 will stampede together till the end!

Annie Wu cherishes the wall before a long weekend.

Elizabeth Marshall, Aysha Rasul, and Hazel Intal happily work together on their Enviormental Science worksheets.

Oh Nine.

/sŏf'ə-môr'/: n a. A second-year student in an American college or high school b. "wise fools"

Last year, we walked through the halls as the underclassmen, nervously gravitating into large groups in the middle of the hallways, because that is where we felt most safe, yet where we would be "punished" for blocking the confident stride of the upperclassmen. Now that we are a yea older, we stroll through the hall by ourselves with more confidence. The definition "wise fools" is true for most of us: we are a bit wiser and a bit more mature, but, we have only been here for two years, and still have much to learn. If we strive t succeed as a class, '09 will be the greatest class AHS has ever seen.

Oh Ten.:/ō těń/

We are the class of 2010. As freshmen we have been hassled th most, not because we were hated or despised, but because we wer simply underclassmen. As a form of initiation into this school, w were pennied, picked on and humiliated. Some may consider tha frosh year is the most difficult, because it's not easy to be thrown int a huge group of people who we are not very familiar with. However with the help of our friends and teachers we have made it throug the year! The freshman year was about discovering who we reall are and what we want to become. Together we will become one of th greatest classes this school has ever seen!

Whether you want to be at school or not, every week day we come together at scheduled times to learn and ultimately grow as human beings. We learn socially and academically from each other - by asking questions, participating in study groups and tutoring - we continuously help- each other grow intellectually . Our teachers also try to help us comprehend our curriculum and hope that we will apply that information to our own lives. Everyone contributes in the classroom - just showing up to class proves that even a slight desire to be there, which makes everyone a little more motivated to learn.

Each day we exert our energy to figure out which academic area intrigues us- is it Einstein's Theory of Relativity? The philosophy of life through literature? Expression through various art forms? The manipulation of numbers to find the exact answer to everything? Nevertheless, for eight hours a day, we come together at Alameda High. Our classes are the binding force that bring the students together, just as conjunctions do in sentences. For this reason, the part of speech, conjunction, DEFINES the academic section.

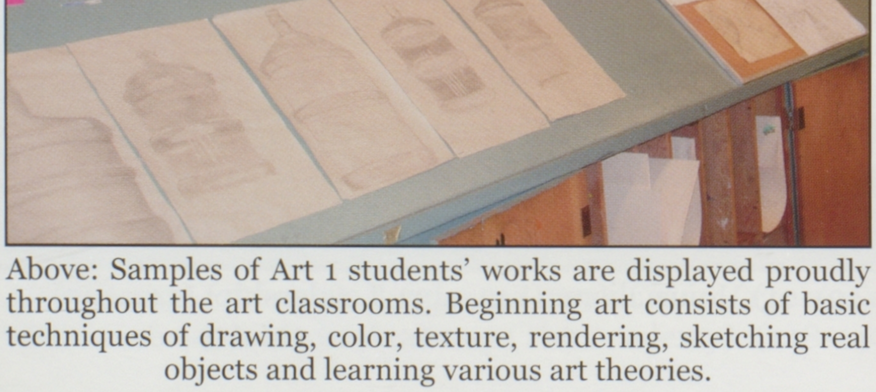
Art and Dance



Above: Samples of Art 1 students' works are displayed proudly throughout the art classrooms. Beginning art consists of basic techniques of drawing, color, texture, rendering, sketching real objects and learning various art theories.

Left: Senior Ashley Bushi has been dancing since she was six years old. Due to her experience and dedication, Ashley teaches the class every Wednesday. She enjoys dancing to classical music, as well as hip-hop and jazz. "I dance because it's a way to express my emotions freely without being judged by others. I dance because I love it and it makes me happy," Ashley says.

"If I could say it in words, there would be no reason to paint."
- Edward Hopper (1892-1967)

Art 3

Dance

Left: Juniors Megan Suzio and Chelsia Durkee, along with the rest of Ms. Gill's first period dance class, do steps across the floor. "First, we change, stretch, warm-up, and go over the basic techniques to improve our flexibility and strength," Chelsia shares.

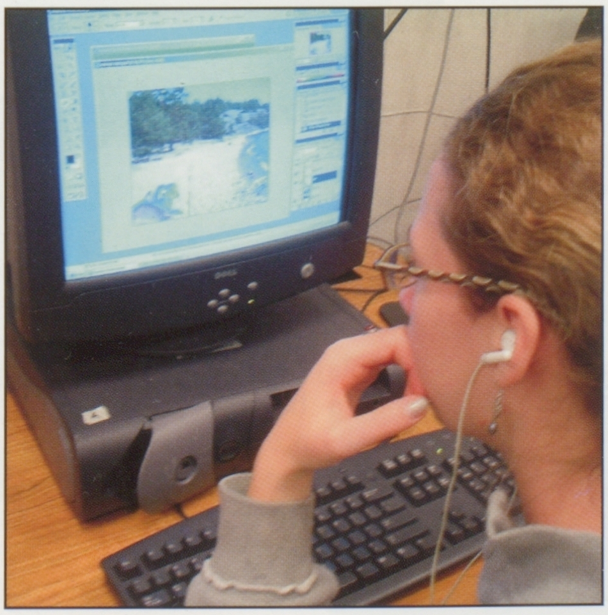
Multimedia Art

Right: Junior Matthew Adgar uses Photoshop to alter the silhouette of the Hornet mascot to make a background for his project. "I like being able to create and use photos," he adds.

Art 1

Left: Sophomore Alan Mac creatively sketches his designs for a destroyed city. For this project, beginning art students use their imagination to construct their own cities using pencils to draw in one-point perspective in order to portray distance.



Right: "Multimedia Art is fun in that you can take any picture and totally change it using Photoshop," Senior Stephanie Vischansky reveals. She concentrates on a project that requires her to take two different photos and blend them together.

What is your favorite thing about your art?

"I most enjoy sketching animals with charcoal pencils. I feel that I can really express myself through my art, even though its only a hobby."

- Senior Lulu Wang

"I love dancing to music like hip hop. It's a lot of fun. The music keeps you dancing."

- Sophomore Tina Tran

"Our teacher, Ms. Gill, really makes it fun for us. She gives students opportunities to teach, listens to what we have to say, and lets us choose what kind of dance to do."

- Senior Jessica Womack

Five of the cast of The Matchmaker bow after a fabulous preview.

Jr. Donald Landers as Ambrose Kemper & Sr. Kyleen Carey as Ermengarde.

Sr. Jennifer Rendel starring as Mrs. Dolly Gallagher Levi.

THE MATCHMAKER

The Matchmaker is centered around relationships, where a woman named Dolly Levi, played by Sr. Jennifer Rendel and Soph. Elizabeth Hughes, arranges a marriage between Horace Vandergelder, played by Sr. Philip James, and Mrs. Irene Molloy, played by Sr. Lisa Alway and Soph. Alex Lee. Through the process, many other relationships develop and it becomes a jumble of twists and turns. Long before the play was performanced, auditions were held back in June. What commitment! Many people memorized their scripts over the summer, and started rehearsing as soon as school started. Those long hours of rehearsal allowed the Drama 3 students to bond together: "Spending five to six hours with the same people for months on end creates a bizzare twisted family... in a good way." said Sr. Gabrielle Dooha-Chambers.

Seniors Kyleen Carey, Lisa Alway, and Jennifer Rendel pose around Junior Donald Landers. Dressed in their costumes, they advertise this year's first new play: The Matchmaker.

Plays and Musicals

"To be a good actor you have to be something like a criminal, to be willing to break the rules to strive for something new." -Nicholas Cage

How have you changed since your first audition?

"Romeo and Juliet was my first audition when I was a Freshman. It wasn't really the auditions I was nervous about, but the more experienced people there. Now, as a Senior, I don't get nervous or stage fright anymore."
-Philip James, 07

"My first audition for Romeo and Juliet as a Freshman was nervewracking! I didn't have as much theatre experience as the others. But now, before I go on stage, I am a completely different person, fooling the audience."
-Jennifer Rendel, '07

"My first musical production was the Little Shop of Horrors; I was a freshman. I was really nervous and my friend had to push me into the audition room. Now, I can present myself how and whenever the director wants me to."

why did you pick this elective?

The Matchmaker

"I picked creative writing because I like the fact that I can express my feelings creatively and freely. The environment is great and there's less restriction on my writing because I get to write whatever I want."

-Courtney Hom, '07

"I've been taking woodshop ever since 6th grade and I really enjoy it. I'm good with my hands and this class allows me to use my hands to build and create things that can be useful."

-John Bovet, '07

Why did you pick French or Spanish?

"Hmm... The MAIN reason I decided to take Spanish was of course to be able to finally order a burrito with extra soy sauce... just kidding, I really wanted to because in California it's more commonly spoken than French. Living in California; knowing Spanish is a lot more convenient. I can finally understand what Spanish speakers say while passing by them."
Joseph Na, `08

"Well I'm in the middle of both French and Spanish. It's interesting. Both languages are from the same origin and it's easier to transition from one to another. Also both of my language teachers are really good at what they do so that helps a lot too. Hopefully learning the two will help me in the future."
Kirsten Allen, `08

"I picked French over Spanish because I love the way the language rolls off your tongue. I plan on going to Europe when I am older, and going to France is right there on my list. Plus French is the language of love. Oh yea I LOVE the food."

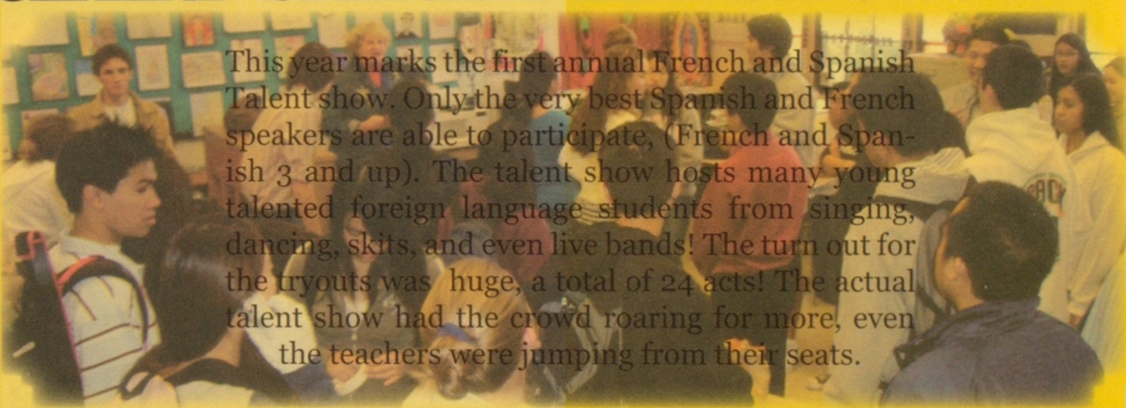
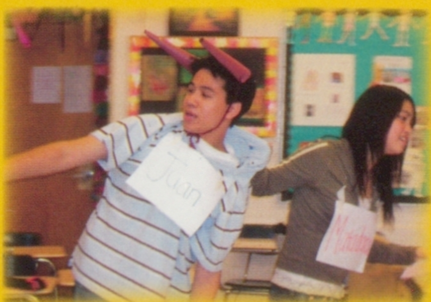
FIRST FRENCH AND SPANISH TALENT SHOW

Kevin Ng and Joanne Wong, `08, perform an amazing salsa number. Joanne quickly returns to Kevin to finish off their part in the dance routine.



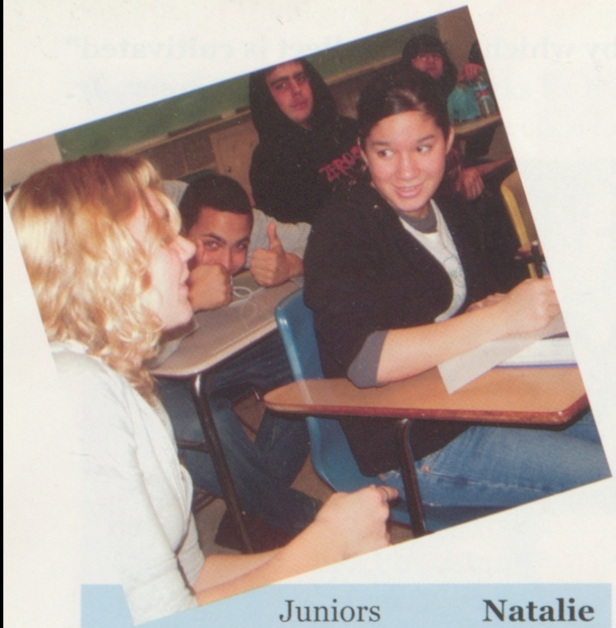
This year marks the first annual French and Spanish Talent show. Only the very best Spanish and French speakers are able to participate, (French and Spanish 3 and up). The talent show hosts many young talented foreign language students from singing, dancing, skits, and even live bands! The turn out for the tryouts was huge, a total of 24 acts! The actual talent show had the crowd roaring for more, even the teachers were jumping from their seats.

Joshua Ramos and Kevin Nguyen `08, perform an outrageous Macarena stunt busting their hips in hopes of getting a spot in the first annual talent show.



Maggie Mei, `09, takes the bull by the horns as she drags Andrew Nguyen,`08, across the room for a dramatic opening scene in their act.

Annie Wu and Carmen Ng `08, perform Petite Poisson, (Little Fish), building up the crowd, demonstrating the food chain, from a small fish to a gigantic whale to end their enormous act.



In Mr. O'Malley's Modern World History class, the students are often asked to compare the events throughout history with the current events in our world today. Sarah Melek and Mackenzie Bowles, both Sophomores, show enthusiasm in a discussion about how commercialism has taken over the media and the effect of it on our lifestyles.

Juniors Natalie Wilkins and Susan Fagel discuss the hardships post-Civil War for the newly freed slaves as well as those who were still living in the South. They talk about how Reconstruction, the process by which the states that had seceded were reorganized as part of the Union, was so difficult to endure. Osama Eid gives their conversation two thumbs up.

Debating with his history teacher, Mr. O'Malley, Sean Reilly argues how Napolean's actions as a leader were impressive and knowledgable. This is not a real debate, but being the great teacher Mr. O'Malley is, he prepares his students in researching and presenting facts. Sean Reilly chose to dicuss Napoleon because of his intense rule over France.

Who do you admire most from History & why?

"I admire Martin Luther King Jr. because he helped African American people to get the civil rights that they deserve. He was also an incredibly inspirational person all around."

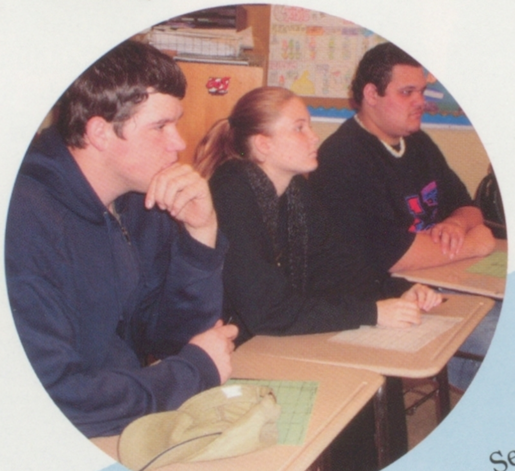
-Sean Ramsey, '08

"I admire Queen Elizabeth the 1st because she ruled all of England by herself without any help from a king. She was a strong woman who had a great sense of style too."

-Erin Nickell, '09

"I admire Cesar Chavez because he took a stand for the unfair labor wages that his fellow farmers were earning. He went on strike and even stopped eating so that the farmers union could be heard."

-David Garcia, '08



In Mr. Caziarc's Government class, the students debate about a famous court case in History. Seniors Charles Graff, Jessica Womack, and Bruce Dunn question the outcome of the verdict of Miller vs. The State of California.

These philosophers, also known as Sophomores London Alfaro and Josue Castro, share their ideas and theories to further enlighten each other's way of thinking. All of Ms. Casper's History classes have a chance to act as if they are real philosophers.

Leadership and ASB

"You gain strength, courage and confidence by every experience in which you really stop to look fear in the face. You must do the thing you think you cannot do." - Eleanor Roosevelt

What is the most challenging g part of the year in leadership

"I think Homecoming is the most stressful, everyone is busy with something. Everything is just cramped in one week like BING! BANG! BOOM!"
- Kim Rambaud, '07

"Homecoming and Prom are the big events of the year. For Homecoming your life is revolved around it for a month, it takes up a lot of the your time just getting donations and getting everything together. Prom is basically the same thing but finding a place, time and making it all come together."
- Brenda Wooddard, '08

"Homecoming is the most challenging of the year, it's just day after day filled with things that need to be done and if you don't meet your deadlines you're screwed."
- Joanna Louie, '10

Junior Travis Williams concentrates to get the correct answer to the difficult problem.

Juniors Alyssa Ruckman and Ashley Edmonson, help each other understand polynomials in Mrs. Harrington's pre-calculus class.

Why do you think math is cool?

"Math is a very complex subject. It keeps your brain working. Though, it is easier for me than English."

-Lauren Cabrales '09

"I enjoy math because seeing numbers excites me. They are how we count money and how you pay for things."

-Gion Winzer '08

"I like math because Mr.. Friedman makes his class fun. For instance, he gives bonus questions on quizzes like, "what day does Thanksgiving fall on?" which makes his class more interesting."

-Minnie Chan '07

Senior Rebecca DeSmitt enoys learning the interesting concepts of math.

Senior Shannon Dupont answers questions on her worksheet about a book called The Animal Farm by searching for quotes in her book.

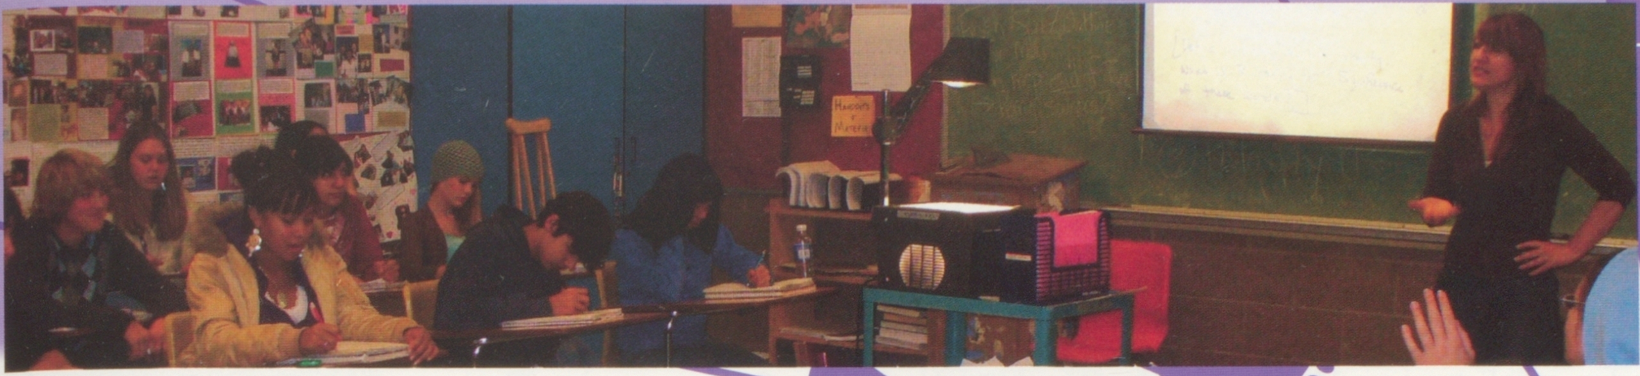
Freshman Nate Silverman shows fellow classmate Philip Wong the proper structure of writing an essay.

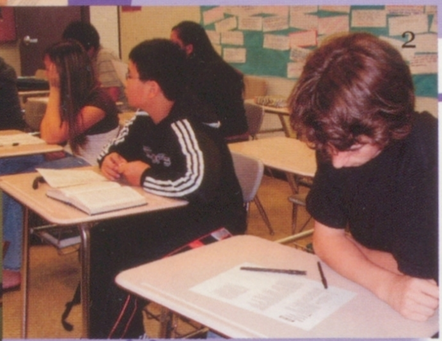
"Learn from yesterday, live for today, hope for tomorrow. The important thing is not to stop questioning." -Albert Einstein

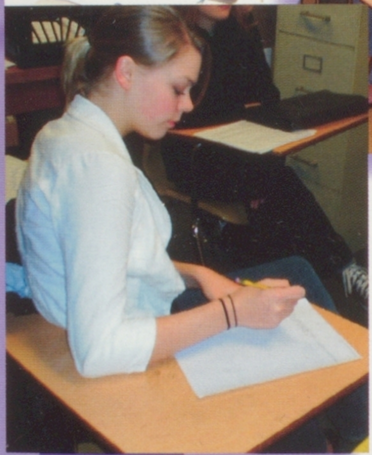


Ms. Turpin lectures the class by explaining history questions displayed on the overhead projector, while the students dictate her explanations. She speaks clearly, making sure that her students understand what she is saying.

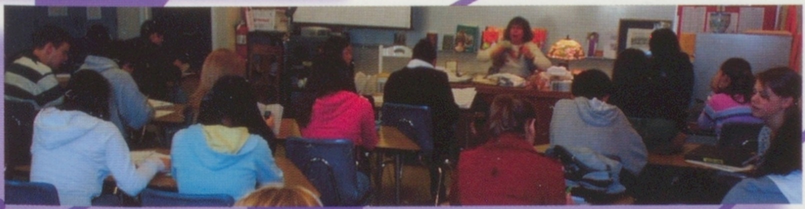
1) Freshmen Ashton Doulabi and classmate Marco Gonzalez complement each other well as partners to complete their English assignment.

2) Freshman Christopher Bridge takes a quick glance at his notes while his other classmates pay close attention to the teacher's skit.





Ella Vandekamp, '07, brainstorms ideas before starting an in-class essay in Mr. Manno's government class.



Ms. Rudd explains the events and morals of a famous book to the Seniors in her first period English 4 academy class while they jot down important snippets of information.

Ms. Carroll guides Sophomore Stephanie Leonard through a difficult English problem.

Why did you decide to join the Academy?

"Good experience and I was going to meet a lot of new people and learn about new things. It helped me because I've known most of the students in the academy and we help each other out. I've learned how to use a powerpoint and computer basics."
-Jorge Segura, '07

"I took it because it was a combination of both English and history. It helps because what I learn in history has a connection with English. The people that I have for history are the same in English class."
Tiffani Perez, '09

"I like learning through the computers rather than reading books. I learn better, their methods of teaching is cool and the teachers are nice. We learn how to write essays, and we learn about historical figures. I like the fact that we work with computers and we're the same group of people for two periods."

Freshman P.E teacher, Ms. Austin, goes through a pre-game position check to make sure that no one in the game will be left out. Many Freshman have developed a strong bond to Ms. Austin in her first year of teaching, "I like Ms. Austin, I think she is a very motivational and outgoing teacher," says student Ama Sarantuya '10.

Ms. Alan teaches her Sophomore class the correct way to use one of the machines in Alameda High's weight room. Her goal for teaching weight lifting is to motivate students to start life long exercise routines. During her second year of teaching, Ms. Allen has developed strong ties to both staff and students.

During a student's belt ceremony, it is traditional for a higher-belted judo practitioner to have one throw on the person with the newly achieved belt status. Mr. Quinonez performs a move called Harai Goshi, which is a basic hip throw.

Sophomore Ryan Ray throws his second ball down the ally; if he picks up this spare it will put him in the lead of his game. With this newly achieved lead, Ray will have to make sure that his partners bowl the best games they can in hopes of getting extra credit from Coach Pearse for a combined score of over 300 points.

Alameda High Freshmen Nathaniel Silverman, Stanley Tu, and Brandon Yee meet up with a bunch of their friends at Tucker's Creamery in February and work together to gulf down an entire "Kitchen Sink!" The Kitchen Sink is the largest order of ice cream that a customer can purchase - a whopping 12 scoops!

As teenagers, we are supposed to focus all of our time and energy on our school work and becoming independent young adults... Right?? However the truth is that we MUST have our fun too! Student life consists of the things we fill up our time doing and focusing on -- all our extracurriculars: sports, the arts, hanging out with people and work. All of these activities are situations where people with similar interests have the opportunity to make new friends. What is most important to us defines who we are and what the path ahead of us may look like.

During breaks and weekends, students just want to go out and have a great time. It is a time where students can, and should, enjoy their personal lives without having to think about school. Since the creation of the automobile, students have had the freedom to go anywhere they like for entertainment. The most common places people visit are Tahoe, Great America, the malls, movies, and just lying back at someone's house. When the stress of school becomes too great, students need to relax.

3. Jordan Skipper, '09 accessories his outfit with an L.A. cap.

In the world of fashion, students try to look better than the guy or girl standing next to them. Dressing well and feeling that you look good helps strengthen students' self-esteem. At Alameda High, we have all different kinds of unique styles. Our students can express who they are through their clothing styles. A person's personality can be brought out through style because it shows how you can be an individual and not feel like you have to be like everyone else.

If you could change one thing about Food Faire what would it be?

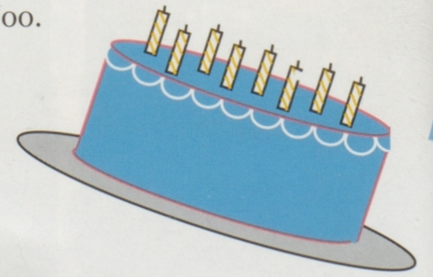
"I would make it more organized, and make the signs more obvious. It is hard to find the places sometimes because all the signs and booths are so close together."

-Laura Hicky '07

"I would have more food. There isn't a big variety of food for that type of club. If there is an Asian club its all of the same type of food at each club. There is no such thing as too much food."

-Lorena Nuno '09

Senior Priscilla Yung sells food for the Medical Society Club to AHS science teacher, Mr. Joo.



DECA sells its famous clam chowder and chili in bread bowls. Their bread bowls are always a top seller out of all of the choices at food faire. It has become a favorite among students and teachers alike. Ms. Sydow says of her students, "They are one of the most hard-working group of kids I have ever taught."

In the mid-late eighties, Food Faire was created by a teacher at AHS by the name of Lynn Kameny. It was begun as a way to celebrate all of the different cultures in the AHS community. Because it is a great way to get clubs involved in a school-wide function, it has become a regular event. There are all types of food such as Afghan, Chinese, Filipino, Soul food, and much, more. Dishes range from sushi to lumpia, from fried chicken to crêpes. It's part of how we define our culture at AHS.

Homecoming is a time where four forces collide into one arena, where football is the game of adrenaline and power. Screams and cheers echo through the school as students rage with Hornet Pride. The student body unites as one force to be reckoned with. Class floats charge the field two times as students prance behind the floats showingtheir class spirit. Students gather to share a night filled with entertainment, paving the way for success.

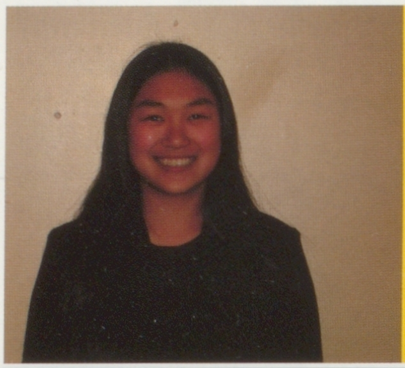
Why do you enjoy working or doing community service?

"I enjoyed working at Dan's Fresh Produce because I got to earn money and buy my own stuff. It made me feel more independent and I also didn't have to rely on my parents. I got to work everyday after school."

-Michael Panagakis Maritz, '09



"I do community service with the Chinese Presbyterian Church in Oakland. I watch the younger kids during adult service. I use to do it because I did it with a lot of my friends, but now I do it because I enjoy it.

-Vivian Ho '07

Seniors Caroline Lee and Minnie Chan make around a hundred to two hundred drinks a day at Tapioca Express. They've been working there since it first opened two years ago. They say that TapEx has "gotten less busy but there is still lots of work to do." They love trying all the drinks and testing out their own creations.

Senior Maureen Mitchell bottom row right, is a proud member of the Hoop Troops for the Golden State Warriors. She loves to "go out into the court during half time to give out prizes and pump up the fans." Out of her three jobs, this one is her favorite.

Jobs and C. Service Joy!

To many students, High School is more than just studying and getting good grades. It's about managing and balancing your time efficiently. Some students take up a sport, some work, some do community service, and some do all of the above. However, maintaining a job or community service project is definitely one of the most vigorous and difficult experiences of high school, one that deserves to be recognized as an accomplishment and as an achievement.

Junior Dennis Yu and Sophomore Nico Romero take a couple of minutes to relax during a short four-hour shift. They enjoy working at Safeway because it is a friendly and easy-going place.

Senior Jessica Jung likes to smile while she works the register at Hawaiian Drive-in. She "really likes working there and making money." Hawaiian Drive-in is one of the newest additions to our myriad of restaurants around school.

1 Two sophomores, Rachael Valler and Daniela Myovich enjoy their delicious sandwiches at the mediterranean deli, Falafel.

2 A-Town Pizza, though a short walk away from the school, attracts many students in search of a good slice of pizza at a reasonable rate, such as Freshman Nick Olsen.

3 Ulices Sanchez and Stephanie Sorenson, '09, are engaged in conversation at Kobe-ya, while enjoying the ethnic atmosphere of the lively restaurant.

4 Senior Helen Park is pleased with her delectable lunch alongside her box of apple juice. At the Hawaiian Drive-Inn, students enjoy foods such as spare ribs, BBQ pork, and many other Hawaiian dishes.

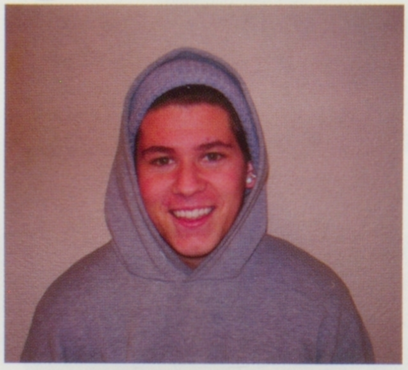
What's the most you've ever spent on lunch during school?



"The most I've spent on lunch is $15.25 at In and Out. I was going through the drive through and bought two double doubles, four orders of animal fries and a Dr.Pepper. I was outraged with the price."

-Senior Nils Axelson

"Whenever Nina, Jessica and I go out to lunch, we always go to Longs Drugs and buy lots of candy. So the most I've probably spent is around $6. We really like candy, so I guess it's worth the price."

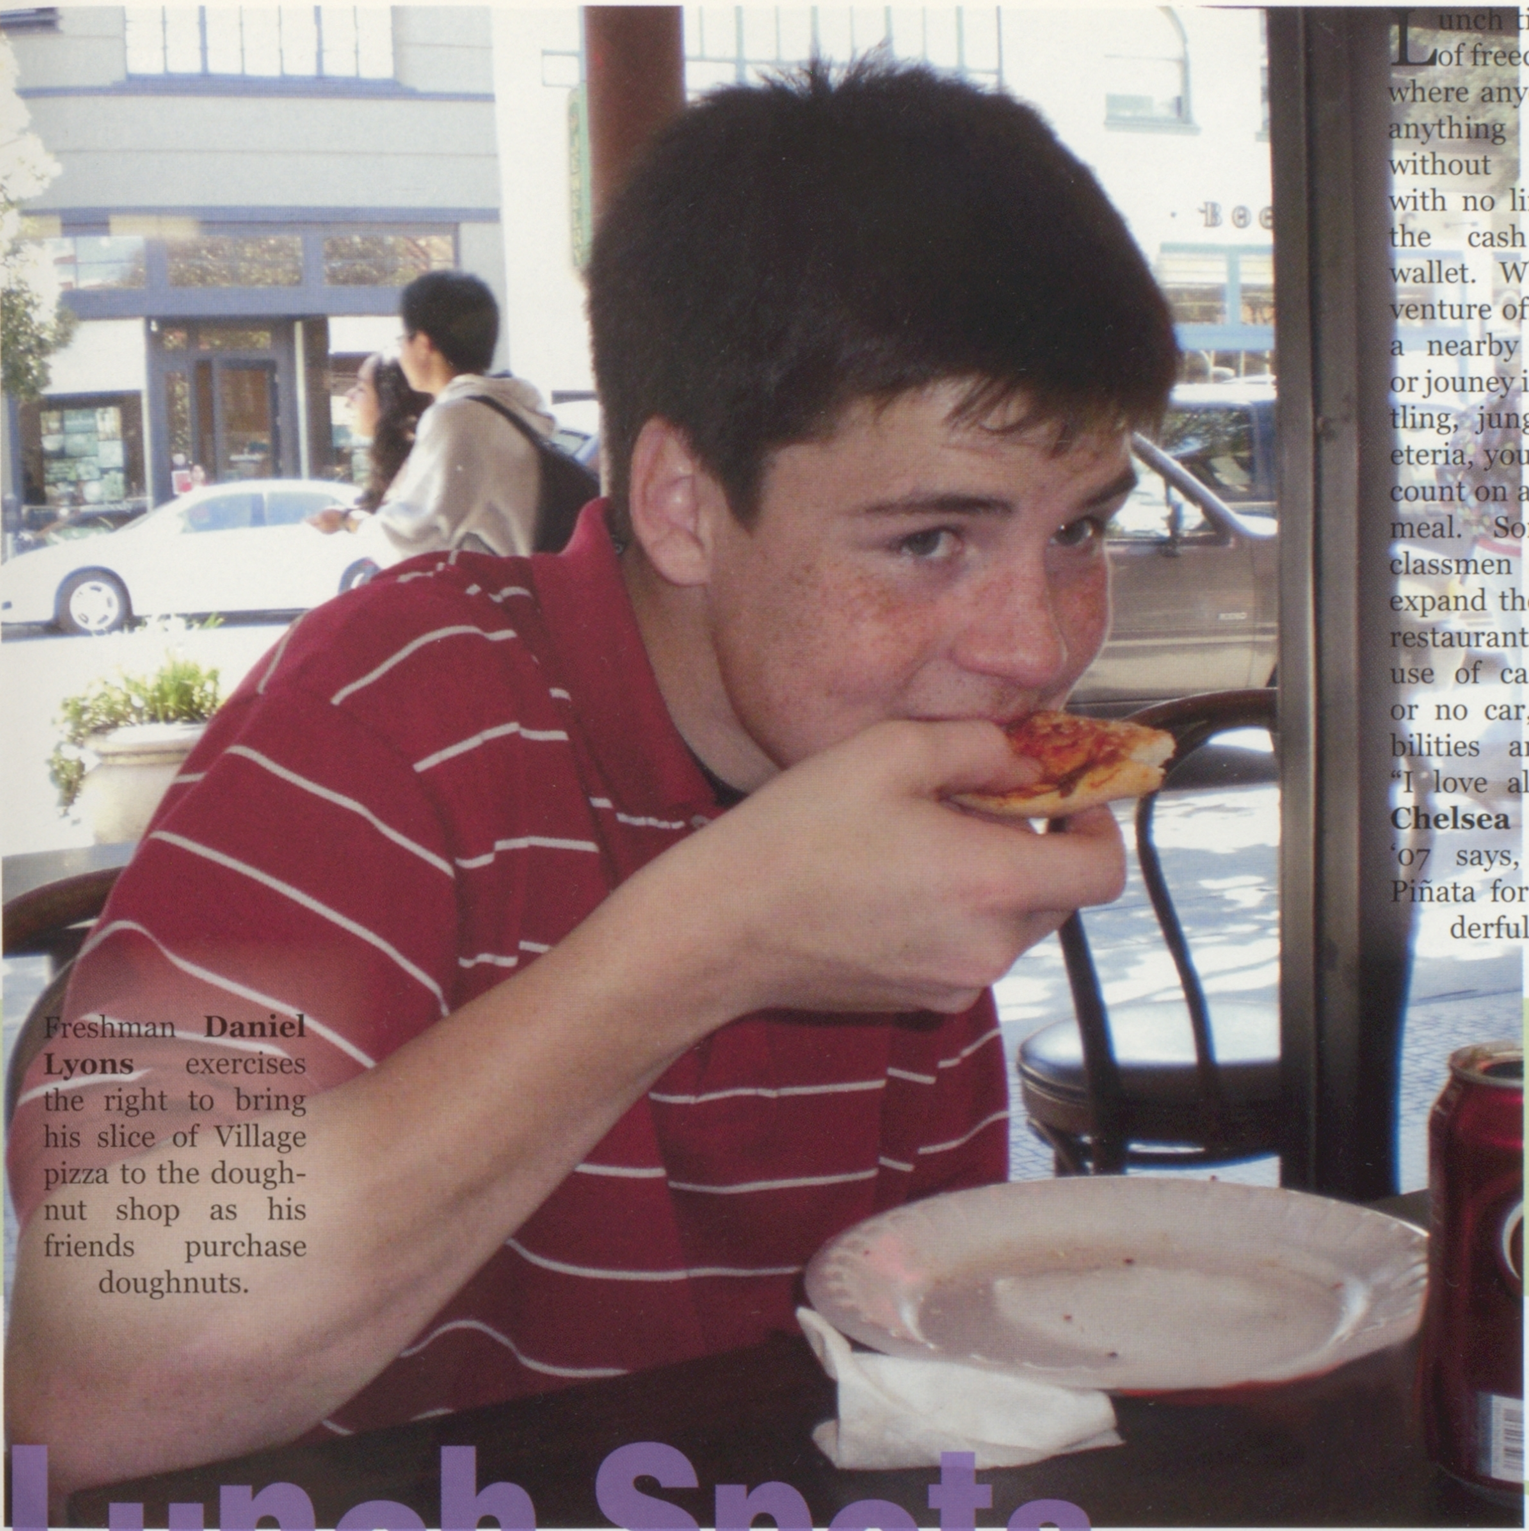
At first glance, the cafeteria seems to be a mob scene. Though once you pay closer attention, you recognize the dynamics of the lunch system. During the first stage of the eating process, students queue up in order to be served, as demonstrated above.



Lunch time: A time of freedom. A time where anyone can eat anything they want without reprimand; with no limits except the cash in your wallet. Whether you venture off campus to a nearby restaurant, or jouney into the bustling, jungle-like cafeteria, you can always count on a substantial meal. Some upperclassmen are able to expand their range of restaurants with the use of cars, but car or no car, the possibilities are endless! "I love all food!" as Chelsea Trueman, '07 says, "I enjoy La Piñata for their wonderful chips."

Freshman Daniel Lyons exercises the right to bring his slice of Village pizza to the doughnut shop as his friends purchase doughnuts.

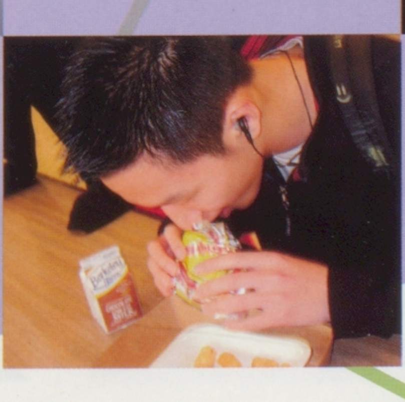
Right: In the cafeteria, Junior Andrew Liu takes a long-anticipated bite out of his scrumptious hamburger, which is just one of the many meals that are available for purchase at reasonable prices.



Right: Robek's, the new smoothie establishment, is normally swarming with thirsty customers. Amanda Davis, '08 and Maddie Wynn, '09, converse while they quench their thirsts.

Halloween is defined as "the evening of October 31; the eve of All Saints' Day; Allhallows Eve: observed especially by children in costumes who solicit treats, often by threatening minor pranks." During Hippie Day, people dress as hippies and wear the most unique 70's clothes they have. On Twin Day, students go out and buy the same clothes to be twins, triplets and even septuplets. For Mismatch Day, we have had the funniest outfits made. Finally, Class Color Day is the day where Freshmen wear gray, Sophomores wear orange, Juniors wear green, and Seniors wear red. This is the craziest of days where people go wild.

Junior Elaine Chen screams in horror as Junior Ricky Quach "attacks" her with a blood stained "knife." The two Juniors were working on the Haunted House project during Halloween for Alameda Youth Committee

What are the best part of spirit days?

"Getting to have fun and getting people excited about our school. Letting myself spark. GO HORNETS!"

-Darrah Jones, `09

"Having fun is good for the environment, the people, and the school. It also allows us to show our spirit within us."

-Ben Trinh, `10

Looking "udderly" ridiculous, Osama Eid, `08, shows off his Halloween spirit by dressing up as a cow.

Tammy Vo and Naimah Jennings, `10, mismatch their shoes , pants and socks to express themselves for Mismatch Day.

1. Rachel Cortes, Liana Choi, Linda Nguyen, `08, takes Twin Day a step further turning it into Triplet Day. They each wear black and white striped shirts.

2. Tanya Ochoa and Madeline Popelka, `07 wear bright and colorful shirts to show their feelings for Hippie Day

3. Jason Miler,`08 wears a jester hat mismatched with a blue scarf and a goofy, pink shirt. Jordan Pries, `08 shows his school pride by participating in Mismatch Day.

4. Jackie Moran and Freshta Esmatyar, `09, wear blue and white for Twin Day before going to P.E.

What is your main form of transportation?

"I ride my bike, which I've had all my life. I don't want a new one because I have made many memories on this one."

-Matt Dias Hammond, '10

"My car is my main way of transportation. I have had my car for about 10 months. It's a green Toyota Camry. But if I had to pick another type of car, oh man, I would get a four-door pick-up so I could drive with all my homies."

-Kevin Duke, '08

Ever since Sophomore Shohei Kobayashi has been able to travel alone, he has been riding the bus.

The bus is an inexpensive and one of the more popular ways to travel.

Juniors Momo Ishiguro and Riley McLens stroll to school with the luxury of drinks.

Juniors Randy Perkins and Chris Giovannetti have GMC trucks. They have the same taste in cars, though, sadly Giovannetti is selling his truck for a new and improved truck. Although he is getting rid of his car, he will never forget the memories he made with friends in it. Perkins will be with Giovanntti to help make those important decisions such as what car will be next.

Junior Christian Jardine, an experienced biker, rides to school every morning. He has been riding a bike for six years, ever since his parents taught him. Jardine makes sure his helmet is on every time he rides it, so he will not get a ticket. Jardine sometimes finds it hard to find a place to park his bike, though he always finds one. He continuously rides his bike, keeping him in shape and is his daily activity. He finds biking "fun and adventurous."

Senior Spike Ayala just got his new skateboard and is able to show it off by riding it to school. This enables him to get there on time. Since he has been riding for four years, he can do many impressive tricks. His friends feel that he is good enough to become professional. Also, they think Ayala is brave because he is willing to attempt daring moves. Even though skating looks easy, it takes a lot of hard work and time, which Ayala is willing to sacrifice.

For almost two years, Senior Alexandria Hurst has been driving her Jeep Grand Cherokee. Luckily, Hurst's mom gave her the car, which was one less thing to buy. She enjoys the benefits of being a young woman because this insures cheaper car insurance. Getting good grades, also helps lower the expense of high auto insurance.

Transportation can be in many forms, whether it be in car, on a bike, or riding a skateboard, it is a part of students' daily lives. Many students leave the house without even realizing that without their car or bike, they would be unable to travel. Some students say driving is more of a "thrill" while others like skaters or bikers beg to differ. As years have gone on, the way students' travels has evolved and will continuously change for the better.

Transportation Vroom!

Left, Junior Jordan Pries has a 1994 Toyota . His car is his prized possession. He says, "it helps those Thursdays to travel to farther a way restaurants."

Right, Senior Jessica Jung has a 2007 Honda Civic. "My parents bought my car around Thanksgiving weekend because my mom was tired of me driving her car all the time."

CLUBS: /klŭbs/

1. A group of people organized for a common purpose, especially one that holds regular meetings. 2. To join or combine for a common purpose. 3. AHS students who come together on a regular basis to express their common interests.

Junior Ibbie Zakir, Seniors Kimberly Carlson, Melissa Chan and Daniel Green drum to the beat that they create in TUBS club. This creatively inclined club uses drum sticks and buckets to create some amazing music. The angle that the stick comes down on the bucket, the rhythm, and where on the bucket the stick falls are all deciding factors of what the final tone will be.

The students' participation in the clubs define what Alameda High School students are all about. Our clubs range from community service clubs such as Key Club to student interest clubs, such as the French Club. Some clubs choose to use their interest or talent to entertain the entire student body at talent shows. Twice a year all the clubs come together to raise funds at our spirited food fairs too.

Clubs are often unappreciated and under-rated, however AHS clubs help define who the students are, where AHS influence reaches out, and what our students can do. That is the connection between the part of speech, nouns, to the Clubs section.

Conflict Mediation

Our club was created to help resolve issues between disputing students at school. We discuss & practice different techniques in mock mediations to prepare us for real situations. This club is very beneficial because disputing students may have their punishment lessened if they agree to have a mediation. This club is here to make our school a more peaceful place.

Photography Club is made up of students willing to see the world at a different angle. The purpose of this club is to learn about photography, our cameras and make interesting photographs. In the process, new friendships develop, just like our art. Our goal is to develop an eye and become better photographers.

Ping Pong

The ping pong club is a club for everyone who enjoys ping pong. The recreational sport trains your reflexes and your upper body strength.

Reality

The Reality Club is a club where Christians are able to come together to meet once a week. Through a tough week at school, members are able to relax and fellowship with other believers, and learn more about God.

Red Cross

The American Red Cross helps vulnerable people around the world to prevent, prepare for, and respond to disasters, complex humanitarian emergencies, and life-threatening health conditions. Volunteers help in every day emergencies, and contributing greatly to Red Cross is it’s youth, which make up 35% of Red Cross volunteers!

Robotics

The Robotics club is a place where students can practice the construction of electronics. At the end of February, Robotics club members will build a robot together.

Aaron Barach, Vivian Yee, Zachary Wong, Ansel Fok, Brandon Yee, Richard Alexander, Nelson La, Jamie Kelly, Robert Chang, Charles Ouyag.

Songwriters Collaboration

The Songwriters Collaboration Project is a club dedicated to nourishing the talents of young singers, songwriters, instrumentalists, lyricists, and many of who are more than one, through teamwork and creativity. Songwriters Collaboration Project meets every week to create & listen to each other's original music and share ideas and advice.

Special Olympics Sports

We aim to help Special Olympians by sparking the interest of more high school volunteers (ideally so that there is an Olympian-Coach one-on-one atmosphere) and increasing awareness for sports for handicapped/disabled people. Volunteers come to Saturday practices and coach the Special Olympians by helping them participate in athletic events and by encouraging them, being enthusiastic and motivating.

Stitchers

The Stitchers Club is a place to learn to knit and crochet and do so for the community. At stitchers we hang out together while knitting or crocheting. Last year we made hats for cancer patients, this year we are making lap blankets, but we also knit for ourselves. We get practice by making scarves and other things. We welcome those who already know how to knit/crochet and also those who want to learn.

1. An advertisement. 2. A comprised collection of Senior ads and Business ads.

Hawaiian Drive-In is located on 2306 A Encinal Ave., between Park and Oak St. Its menu ranges from Hawiian BBQ to Chicken Katsu to Spam Musubi. This new addition to the AHS students' popular lunch spots has drastically changed lunchtime itself. Introducing three dollar bowls, the owner of the restaurant, Paul, has different specials everyday and has become known for his big portions of food. He insists on keeping it this way because he feels that the customers deserve it. With new additions to their menus monthly and happy employees, it is no wonder that Hawaiian Drive-In has become a big hit among the students for lunchtime.

Each fall, the Seniors at Alameda High School create a summary of their memories which are submitted to the yearbook. This year, we had approximately 50 senior ad entries which fill up nearly this entire section. Thank you so much to all of you who participated!

Our Dearest Hannah,

Thank you for seventeen amazing years thus far. You are a perfect daughter; loving, caring, and intelligent. You have grown up before our eyes and now it's time for us to let you go off to the next chapter in your life. Good luck next year in college, we know you will do just great and shine on your campus and in your new community. Congratulations! Keep up the good work.

We Love you so much!

EMPOWER

SUNDAY MORNINGS

AT 10:45-12:00

Every Sunday morning at Bay Farm Community Church the youth get together for EMPOWER! We encourage you to come and get plugged in. Every week we have fun and the discussion is relevant to your life. We have a great time every Sunday; so we would love to see you get involved.

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS

WE ARE SO PROUD OF YOU. WE SEND YOU OFF WITH ONE LAST BLESSING,

"I KNOW THE PLANS I HAVE FOR YOU," DECLARES THE LORD, "PLANS TO PROSPER YOU, NOT TO HARM YOU, PLANS TO GIVE YOU HOPE AND A FUTURE."

GOD BLESS.

Christopher,
Now we're watching you graduate--
The grown young man we helped create!
On wings of knowledge you will fly;
Following your vision and rising high.
We couldn't be prouder, our Wingman, of you;
We wish you success in all you do.
Remember one thing we want to know:
Our love is with you wherever you go.

1. A specific diversion, usually involving physical exercise and having a set form and body of rules. 2. One known for the manner of one's acceptance of the rules of a game or of a difficult situation, e.g., "Old Sport." 3. Sports bring AHS students together in a spirited and united fashion - whether one is a participant or a fan.

Freshman Emily Ball on the Women's Soccer JV team dribbles fiercely down the field. Being a member of the women's soccer team, she must be aggressive and focused. She jumps at this opportunity to take "Action, Action! We want Action!" as cheerleaders enthusiastically puts it.

Run faster. Play defense. Be aggressive. Win. All of these ideas flash through a player's mind during a game. Whether you run, swim, dribble, dive, shoot, throw, punt, putt, or anything else, you become what you do. The sports section is easily connected to the part of speech, verb, because of the action imbued in Hornet athletes feats out on the playing field. Alameda High is known for an amazing athletics program. The secret to our success is our unity and teamwork when it comes down to crunch time. We understand the actions it takes to work as a team and perservere through every obstacle.

Sophomore Tatiana Burenin, JV, sprints the last leg of the race at the Ram Invitational. Her efforts have helped Alameda to win many races this year.

jv & var

XCOUNTRY

(noun): A sport where teams race across open country rather than following tracks or roa

Left: Sophomore Connie Tan, Freshman Sara Boscacci, and Senior Christina Huang, JV, keep up their stamina as they reach the half way point of their race. Connie went on to place seventh with an overall time of 14:32.

Right: Sophomores Will Boscacci, Daniel Higuchi and Junior Zach Hinton, JV, run in a tight formation to gain position at the beginning of the Crab Cove race. Out of the four other schools there, Daniel finished second overall with a time of 11:32 and Will finished fourth with a time of 11:41.

JV girls start their race at Crab Cove hoping for a huge victory. After the dust had settled, Alameda had 16 JV girl runners in the top 20.

Freshman Victoria Marshall, JV, leaps for joy as she finishes her race and learns she finished in a top 20 position.

Junior Jesse Prins, Varsity

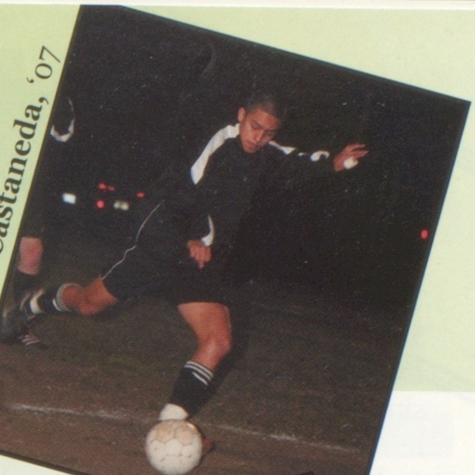
The core of all successful teams always start with solid coaches. JV coaches Danny & Ivahan Ayllon and Jesus Ramirez keep the team in check with skill building drills. Danny Ayllon had to leave in the middle of the season because his own soccer career in El Salvador came into focus.



Martin Castaneda, '07

Where does this all start? Right here, with coach Eric Smiler and Bill Ginsburg who have been coaching the Varsity teams for many years. With different styles of coaching but the same determination, both coaches agree that "the varsity team has improved greatly since the beginning of the year," and are very proud of their team.

Alexi Keller, '10

Braulio Aramburo, '10

As the leading scorer for the Varsity squad, Senior Chris Harris dribbles through only one of the many victims to his speed. "I want to play for a professional team after high school," says the Senior. This is Harris' first year playing on the soccer field for Alameda high.

Midfielder, Senior Jeff Stallman takes a free kick towards one of his teammates. This is his second year on Varsity and gets stronger every game. Stallman is one of the leading defenders for the team. Being only one of two Seniors on Varsity, he brings great skill and experience to the team.

Starting as goalie for the Varsity team is Junior Aaron Kohgadai who, through numerous injuries, fought back against rivaling teams. Even though this is only his first year on Varsity, Kohgadai has had many amazing saves and his great instincts make him unstoppable.

BASEBALL

jv & var

(noun): A game played with a bat and ball by two opposing teams of nine players, each team playing alternately in the field and at bat, the players at bat having to run a course of four bases laid out in a diamond pattern in order to score.

The pep-talk

Sophomore Daniel Higuchi, JV, stands on third base after hitting a single and being moved over by fellow players. Higuchi takes a small break in between pitches to find out what Coach Pearse would like him to do. "Pearse says a lot of inspirational things on the field.While I was at third base he told me that I was becoming more of the player that he would like me to be. That was probably the most inspirational thing he has ever said to me."

Junior Will Sherratt Var, dives back into first base after the pitcher tried to pick him off. This phenomenon happens when the pitcher thinks a base runner is too far off a base. The pitcher will then try and make a move to get the runner out. Many runners will relax off the base and are easily picked off by the pitchers, but with quick reflexes and a knowledge of the opposing pitcher, Sherratt is easily able to get back to the base.

The slide back

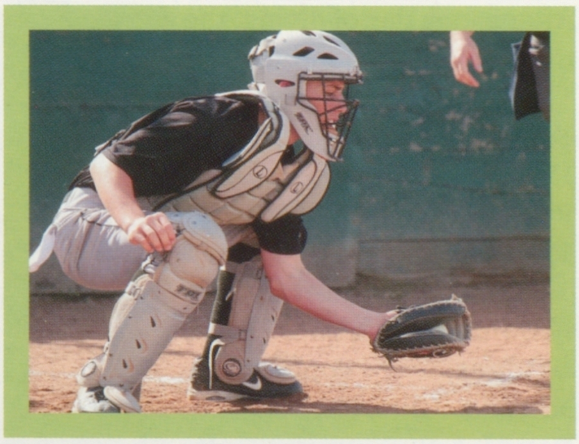
4: Sophomore Joe Norton, JV, takes his time on the mound. He pitched well for three long innings against Arroyo. He allowed neither any hits and nor any runs to score.

5: Junior John Dunn, Var, gets down on the ball to make the play. Dunn has been a valuable part of the Varsity team and has helped win many games and has been part of Alameda's seven-game winning streak.

In the baseball world, being a catcher is one of the most difficult positions. Whether it's framing or blocking a ball, they are always in the game. Left, Junior Casey O'Reilly frames a ball into the strike zone. "Framing gives the umpire a better view of what is a ball and what is a strike, and if your'e good at it you can change a ball into a strike," O'Reilly states. Right, Michael Panagakis-Marrits blocks the ball from bouncing to the backstop. "Blocking is difficult but not blocking a ball could cost a base, a run, or even the game."



What inspired you to play baseball and what keeps you playing?

ophomore Will Boscacci

"My dad inspired me to play baseball. I started playing ever since I was five years old. The excitement of the game and being able to play as a team keeps me going."

Splash!

Sophomore Emily Pendleton demonstrates the three parts to a dive. First, one must get on the diving board. For many, it can be quite nerve-wracking to stand above the water before jumping in. Second, the diver must shoot off the diving board, having just seconds to contort their body into a difficult position. Third, they must transform their body in just seconds in order to plunge into the pool with their body straight and toes pointed.

1) Senior Jeffrey Lee carefully places the golf ball on top of a tall tee during a match against Hercules.

2) Seigo Ma, Freshman, aligns himself to get maximum distance before teeing off. Through experience, Seigo knows his position relative to the ball is crucial.

3) Tilden Women's Invitational winner Junior Emily Childs, winds up before a mammoth swing that produces an average of 250 yards.

4) Junior Michael Lilly watches the flight of the ball as it bounces down the middle of the fairway.

What advice would you give to future AHS golfers?

nior Emily Childs

"Just to have fun and not to take the game too seriously. Golf can be a very tedius sport sometimes. One day goes very well then the next goes terrible."

Junior Michael Lilly

"Don't think about what you're going to end up shooting because that messes you up. Half the game is mental, so if you're thinking about your shot too much, the more likely you are to mess up."

In Memoriam

Gerald Ford our 38th President, died in his house at 6:45 p.m. on Tuesday December 26, 2006 at age 93. He was put into the grounds of the Gerald R. Ford Museum in Grand Rapids, Michigan .

Courageous Steve Irwin, the Crocodile Hunter, sadly passed away September 4, 2006 by an unfortunate stingray incident. He was killed by a sting to the chest

James Brown, the "Godfather of Soul" was a man with a talent that can only be described as one of a kind. He was being treated for severe pneumonia early Monday morning on December 25, 2006 in an Atlanta hospital when he died of congestive heart failure.

An unfortunate incident occurred at Virginia Technology University, where a mentally ill man entered the school and massacred 33 people and himself on April 16 ,2007. The event claims the name of the worst shooting in U.S. history.

The Definition of Alameda is changing . . .

The mayor of Alameda, Beverly Johnson, Assemblywoman Wilma Chan, and Senator Don Perata cut the opening ribbon. One of the newest attractions came to Alameda on November 2, 2006, the Alameda Free Library. The building cost about $26.1 million.

HAIGHT SCHOOL

Haight school is being remolded to make it a safer environment for earthquakes.

ALAMEDA THEATRE

Coming back to Alameda is the old theatre which will bring much more entertainment to the small island.

2006 Election

In the November 2006 elections, the Democrats dominated both the House Of Representatives and the Senate. Leaders from both parties are going to work together to avoid the intense partisan of the past years. The shift in power has made it hard for the White House to control the scandals in the past few weeks.

Nancy Pelosi, Democrat is currently the first woman Speaker of the House. She is the highest ranking woman in the history of the United States Government. She has been in the office since January 7, 2007. She leads Democrats with effectiveness as the House leader.

Keith Ellison became the first Muslim to be elected to the United States Congress in 2006.

Sports & Entertainment

Former NBA center John Amaechi, became the 6th professional male to discuss his homosexuality.

The Sony Playstation 3 and Nintendo Wii debuted.

Team Italy was the 2006 World Cup champions, which was held in Germany.

On February 17, 2007 Britney Spears erratically shaved her head bald.

And the War Goes on . . .

Statistics as of February 2007

U.S. Troops Killed : 79
Iraqi Army and Police Fatalities : 150
U.S. Helicopters Lost: 3
Multiple Fatality Bombings: 54
Civilian Fatalities: 2,500
Monthly U.S. Cost in Iraq: 9 billion dollars per month

Ms. Klinger

“What a fun year! It’s been great watching the class bloom under Marisa’s leadership and witnessing the new levels of professonalism and organization the class used to carry out our mission. Thank you to all the section editors for their leadership and to each staffer for their willingness to work incrediby hard. And a special thanks to John Lee for being our first-ever Business Editor.”

“All of the lunches and 6th periods that I spent in the yearbook room was well worth it because this book looks great! I am so proud of all our staff - you guys did a fabulous job and I am honored to have worked with you! It has been my joy in watching the editors grow over the past few years. Thank you so much to the Editors and especially to John, Jess W. and Ms. Klinger for your unconditional love and support! Melissa - I know you will do amazing work next year and will be a successful editor in chief! I’ll miss you all and good luck!”

we laugh at deadline s

1. Psychiatrist Sophomore Tuan Hoang seems to diagnose Junior Brennen Lowe during a passionate game of Psychiatrist. 2. Haley Hayes, Khyra Conerly, Akiba Johnson, Precious Neil, Kristy Erwin, Abel Abyu and Kaitlin Lewis work together to untangle their human knot. 3. Freshmen Michael Hoye and Marika Prins work hard and always get their work done by the deadline!

"OH, CHECK THE ARCHIVE.

Freshman buds, Michelle Murphy and Sarah Badr help windex and dry the windows of the cars in the teacher's parking lot to show the teachers how much we appreciate them!

Seniors Marisa Sum and John Lee and Junior Will Matteucci and Ms. Klinger compare whose cake on a popsicle stick is the best!

Our friendly helper, Senior Terepkul Ngiraingas wipes down this teacher's windshield with pleasure! His smile is as bright as the gleam on the window!

Best Buds, Freshmen Marika Prins and Michele Sum flee from the cake fight scene after being victims themselves during another one of the Yearbook's infamous cake & icing fights!

1. Junior Jesse Prins and Olivia Tang and Freshmen Vivian Wu and Marisa Araujo patiently watch during a game of Psychiatrist.
2. Christie Lee and Precilla Tang thoughtfully made Akiba Johnson a "We'll Miss You!" cake for his going away celebration.
3. Sophomore Jason Woo has a chocolatey smile while he sports the new yearbook fad - cake on a popsicle stick!
4. Senior Stacey Hooker sinks her teeth into Ms. Klinger's yummy chocolate birthday cake!

The Yearbook Staff would like to thank Pro Image Studios for taking all of our sports photos and Senior portraits, and Carolyn Dufur for all she has done for us - she is our go-to person whenever we are in need! Also, thank you to Ms. Gregor for correcting our grammatical errors while Ms. Klinger was away.
Publication Specs: The Alameda High School Acorn, Volume 132, was printed at Jostens Publishing Plant, 1,100 copies were printed. Our trim size is 9 inches by 12 inches and is printed on GL80 #191 paper. The Acorn was produced by the Yearbook class using Dell Pentium 4 computers that are equipped with Adobe InDesign CS, 2007 Year Tech, and Adobe Photoshop 7.0. Georgia font was used for captions, copies and titles throughout the book. The headline type styles used were Amazon, Austere, BadHabit, Belinda, Bedford, Brave, Cowgirl, Elegance, Feltpoint, Frankie, Kent, Kurt, Sha Sha and Yellow Jacket. The Alameda Acorn staff can be reached at (510) 337-7022 extension 5430, or emailed at ahsyearbook@alameda.k12.ca.us. Mail may be sent to 2201 Encinal Avenue, Alameda, CA. 94501.
